

Kevin D. Maloney

President, CEO, Co-Founder & Director

Mr. Maloney's seasoned investment, managerial, sales and marketing experience has significantly contributed to QuantumSphere's global exposure and rapid business growth over the last five years. Prior to co-founding QuantumSphere, Mr. Maloney was vice president of institutional sales and marketing at First American Corp.'s (NYSE: FAF) Capital Management and Trust Division. Previously, Mr. Maloney served as a compliance officer and registered principal at Pacific Investment Management Company (PIMCO), an institutional investment advisory firm with over $700 billion in assets under management that services endowment funds, foundations and pension plans. He has raised funds for numerous private equity placements and held NASD Series 7, 26, 63 and 65 securities licenses. Mr. Maloney is an instructor for Loyola Marymount University's Nanotechnology Certificate Program and a frequent panelist at various industry conferences. He holds board seats for non-profit nanotech organizations, IAnano & NanoBioNexus and is a member of the NanoBusiness Alliance and the American Chemical Society (ACS). He is also an active board member for the Orange County YMCA. Mr. Maloney has been awarded two U.S. patents and earned his B.A. from the University of California, Irvine and an M.B.A. from Pepperdine University.